

Autoimmune Disease (Hashimoto's, ALS, SLE, Celiac, etc)

Dr. Abrienne Goss, ND

With many autoimmune conditions, doctors label people with the disease and the person doesn't know otherwise than to carry the diagnosis around with them their whole life. Why? Because 1) they have received very little relief from their condition and 2) it constantly reminds them that it is there by filling their life with discomfort, pain, and fear. Research shows that 23.5 million Americans suffer from 1 of 24 autoimmune conditions. However, because there are actually 80-100 autoimmune conditions in existence, the number of people suffering from them is actually significantly higher.

Using commonly prescribed immunosuppressant medications has devastating side effects resulting in chronic infections, malignancy, and several other conditions.

There is no reason you should be a part of this statistic! The good news is, like many other conditions, "autoimmune" means the immune system is attacking itself and dis-ease is a state of imbalance. What if the immune system is just confused? What if it can be guided back to knowing that it is absolutely not right to attack its own body and it can now mount a proper response to "foreign" matter? It can!

Regardless of the autoimmune condition, Hashimoto's thyroiditis, Crohn's disease, ALS, SLE, celiac disease, and many more, the immune system is confused. Otherwise, it wouldn't be attacking its own body. And yes, you can have these conditions, but not know it, if your immune system is in balance!

More than this, autoimmunity is often carried through the generations, but can be corrected. So if there were a way to stop this downhill spiral, would you be up for the challenge? If you said yes to this question, you have come to the right place! You are ready to make a change for yourself and your family! You are ready to start living your life with purpose and power, free of physical barriers.
